

Project Management 1

Overview, content and method

Be prepared for project management

Get an introduction to the basic tools of project management. Project Management 1 provides you with a holistic understanding of the basic methods and tools for project work. You will understand the project's form as a working tool and you will be able to complete more effective projects when having participated on Project Management 1.

What is a project?

A project is a one-time task that is limited in time, content (deliveries) and resources and that has its own project organisation. The number of these kinds of tasks is increasing. The project's working method puts great demands on the project manager and the project group – demands that you will find it easier to meet if you acquire the tools that Project Management 1 provides you with.

Mannaz Learning – read more

On the course you will work on:

Understanding the working method of the project

Applying methods for managing and ensuring progress

Working with the project triangle (time, resources, content)

Developing stakeholder analysis

Applying the project toolbox

Developing a business case

Formulating objective(s)

Organising and planning your work

Who takes part?

Project managers or upcoming project managers who want to get an overview of a project, its content and method. Perhaps you are about to start a specific project or some cross-disciplinary problems related to change within the organisation and its products/services. Even though you have worked with projects for a few years, there is still much to be learned from this course. Project Management 1 is directed at industries, professional groups and organisations.

An IPMA-registered programme

The programme is IPMA®-registered in Denmark, which means that Mannaz' goals and content have been scored according to the Danish NCB "Project Management Competences" – and that Mannaz' indication of participants' options for developing competences have been verified by Dansk Projektledelse (Danish Project Management) (www.dansktopjektledelse.dk).

By completing the programme, you will acquire the skills described in the NCB (National Competence Baseline), that are required for IPMA® certification in Denmark. You can become IPMA-certified through Dansk Projektledelse.

You can safely attend our courses

The assembly ban of maximum 10 people in Denmark does not apply to meetings and other events where participants are "primarily seated". Therefore, we continue to host all courses, educations, and the like.

We carefully follow the authorities' recommendations regarding COVID-19 and we have implemented the following measures:

The classes take place in large rooms with a minimum distance of 1 meter between each chair

The classroom is thoroughly cleaned

Everyone must wear a mask when not seated

Everyone must regularly wash hands and use hand sanitizer

Lunch will be served in individual portions

Our guidelines were last updated on October 26, 2020. Read more about the guidelines here.

Practical learning method

The course deals with topics that are relevant for all types of projects. This could be in-house company tasks or tasks associated with collaboration with customers and other stakeholders outside the company. The course is practical and combined with theory, and you will be working with typical situations in a project process based on a general business case. The facilitation is a mix of preparatory digital learning modules as well as plenary and group work.

Facilitation days – from start to finish

Day 1: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Day 2: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Day 3: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Digital learning

The course will be tailored to your needs to ensure the optimal benefit for you. You will complete a pretest that tells us, which preparatory Mannaz digital learning modules you need to complete. Once you have completed the learning modules, you will complete a posttest, which gives the facilitators a unique opportunity to meet your needs and your level of competence as best as possible.

Facilitators

You will meet experienced facilitators and consultants from Mannaz. All facilitators have practical experience from working with projects.
